CITIZEN'S BAND CONCERT

The Red Deer Citizens' Band gave their first concert last Thursday evening as announced, commencing at 8.30 o'clock. The weather had been very wet and disagreeable but cleared shortly after 8 o'clock. A very fair audience assembled and the band has received numerous compliments on their performance. The program was as follows:

March, "Easy Walker."
Marching song, "Pack up your Troubles."
Cornet solo, "Eileen Alannah," by Mr. Conway, with baritone solo by Mr. Geo. England.
Marching song, "Cheery Song."
Overture, "Eacore."
Marching song, "Take me Back to Bighay."
"Maple Leaf" and "O, Canada."
God Save the King.
The membership of the band at present is as follows: Clarinet, J. E. Walton; Cornet, Messrs. J. K. Marshall, Conway, R. Michener, Knudsen, Alton, Messrs. James and H. Gaez; Tenors, Saunders, Thorne, Rogers, and Galbraith; Baritone, G. England; Basses, N. Michener, H. Rogers, H. F. Kenny; Drums, Messrs. Allard and S. Wilson.

The band regrets the recent departure of Mr. F. Simonton, cornetist, to Regina, and the fact that Mr. J. K. Marshall, cornetist, will also be leaving very soon. Both these members have been very faithful, and their removal will be a distinct loss to the band. On the other hand the band has been fortunate in getting the help of Mr. Conway, accountant in the Merchants bank, and a solo cornetist, Mr. Knudsen, also a cornetist, Mr. O. W. Thorne, slide trombone, and Mr. James who has been secured through the band as accountant for the Red Deer Grocery Co., Ltd., and an experienced bass player.

The bandmaster, J. E. Walton, is anxious that the band shall be able to justify the erection of the bandstand on the city square and hopes that good weather and a large audience will be present for the next concert to be given next Friday evening, June 7th, commencing at 8.30 o'clock.

CANADIAN LINES IN U.S. ASK THAT RATES BE INCREASED

C.N.R. WANTS TO CANCEL EXCURSION RATES ON NEW YORK BRANCHES

Washington, June 3.—Canadian railways today asked permission of the Interstate Commerce Commission to raise rates on business done on their lines within the United States to the level provided by Director General McAdoo under the recent rate orders for American railroads.

The Canadian Northern seeks to cancel its excursion rates to and from Niagara Falls on its lines within New York, and to raise to three cents a mile its passenger rates from Minnesota and Michigan running to Detroit, Sault Ste. Marie, Duluth, and between Vancouver, B.C., and Pacific coast cities in the United States.

The Canadian Pacific asks for the three-cent rate on passenger traffic on its lines in Maine and Vermont.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Steamship line asks permission to increase boat fares from Seattle to Canadian ports, to the level that may hereafter be provided by the American railroad administration for steamboat lines.

W. T. COOTE QUILTS BUSINESS

The announcement "Coote Quits" came like a bolt from a Jack Johnson, that Mr. W. T. Coote, who had decided to close out his entire stock.

His loss will be greatly felt on Ross Ave., as he has been an aggressive business man and bears the highest reputation.

Mr. Coote has turned over his entire stock of clothing, furnishings and shoes to the "Movie Man," who has the fastest system known for clearing out large stores.

This close-out campaign opens on Thursday morning and will continue until the last vestige of the stock is cleared out and away.

NORDEGG

George Pennycook, who for the past year has been in the employ of the Canadian Northern railway, leaves today for his home west of Edmonton.

Dave Duncan and Jimmy Gerance left on Friday to report for military service in Calgary.

J. Kaye, returned veteran, has taken a position as ranger with the forestry department. Mr. Kaye went overseas with a British Columbia battalion and was wounded at Vimy Ridge.

W. Scott, assistant fire ranger for the forestry department, has been transferred to the eastern part of the reserve, where he will take over the patrol of Charles Bremner, who has been appointed superintendent of the Brazeau reserve.

E. C. Manning, former acting-supervisor for the Clearwater forest reserve, has resigned from the dominion forestry branch and taken a position in the British Columbia forestry department.

The tag day conducted by the ladies of the local branch of the Red Cross proved most successful. A great deal of interest was manifested in the work, and the ladies have good reason to be pleased with the success of their labors. The sum of $130 was realized from the sale of tags. Mrs. C. W. Perry gave a 15c tea in the hall at which $20 was realized.

SUGGESTS GOVERNMENT DEVELOPMENT OF ALBERTA COAL

Winnipeg, June 1.—With the utilization of western Canadian coal a necessity, will the federal government take possession of enormous tracts of coal land in Alberta and develop them for the benefit of the people at large? This is the question propounded today by J. W. Shipley, of the department of chemistry of the Manitoba agricultural college. According to Shipley, in the field tapped by two government railways, there are estimated to be 16,000,000,000 long tons of very valuable coal already located. Part of the leases are held by a German corporation, and the balance by a Toronto organization. Exclusive of this suggestion of a national coal supply, Mr. Shipley points out the necessity of putting all soft coals marketed on a price basis equivalent to their respective heat values.

MILITARY NOTES

E. Kingsop, Sylvan Lake, appears among the wounded in Monday's casualty lists. He belonged to the cavalry, and his injuries were gunshot wound in the knee and arm.

Sergeant Fear, writing home after his injury, says he was wounded by the bursting of a shell just in front of him. The explosion threw the earth up all round him and injured his ear and broke the drum of his ear, as well as filling his face with dirt. He does not anticipate permanent injury to the eye, and speaks lightly of the wounds in general. The man alongside was badly hurt in arms and legs from the same shell.

HUNS SINK FIFTEEN SHIPS OF U.S. COAST

MOST OF THE SINKINGS OFF NEW JERSEY COAST, NEW YORK EXCHANGE HEARS.

RUMORS PREVALENT FOR SOME TIME OF SEA ADVERSITY.

New York, June 3.—Information received at the maritime exchange indicated that as many as 15 vessels have been sunk by German submarines operating off the New Jersey coast.

Within the last week a South American ship arriving here brought reports of the presence of two German submarines in the vicinity of Bermuda.

The reports that 15 vessels had been sunk seems to indicate the presence of a number of submarines and that the enemy has inaugurated an attack in force.

One steamer, one schooner, and two or three other vessels have been sunk off the New Jersey coast by a German submarine.

One of the ships sunk was the Edward H. Cole, a sailing vessel. It is asserted in shipping circles that it was possible that as many as six additional vessels were destroyed, not including those known to have been sunk.

The ships were attacked some time during the night, according to information which was received here. Details were not immediately available. The port authorities barred the departure of outgoing ships this forenoon.

It is presumed here that the submarine was now being dealt with by American destroyers.

The Edward H. Cole was an American schooner of 1,791 tons gross, owned in Boston. She was built at Rockland, Maine, in 1904.

Chatham, Mass., June 3.—A report is current on the tape that a ship has been torpedoed off Nantucket shoals. No official confirmation of the report is available.

Providence, R.I., June 3.—Narragansett Bay was closed to outgoing vessels this morning by order of the commandant of the naval station at Newport.

Washington, June 3.—Naval officials said that up to the time Associated Press dispatches telling of the destruction of American shipping off the New Jersey coast by German submarines were received in Washington, the navy department had no information of the presence of enemy raiders in home waters.

The submarines were probably looking for American transports. Having been checked in the war zone, the German admiralty has concluded to carry the submarine warfare to the doors of America in the hope of stopping the flow of troops which will turn the balance against the Central Powers.

New York, June 2.—Rumors of the

M. A. MUNRO GOES TO EDMONTON

M. A. Munro left for Edmonton Friday last to take a position in the Dominion Lands office of that city. Mr. Munro is one of Red Deer's old timers and will be greatly missed, as he was connected for a number of years with the life of the community. For fourteen years he has been a member and secretary of the School Board, and has filled the position with credit to himself and the city at large. For several years he was a member of the Dominion Lands Agency staff here, until the office was closed a few weeks ago. For a number of years in the old days he was in the real estate and insurance business and secretary of the Provincial Conservative association, and was connected with a number of organizations of the city. The School Board has given him leave of absence for three months to see how he will like the new work in Edmonton. Mrs. Munro will remain in Red Deer for the present as their son Robert is in the Bank of Montreal here and their daughter, Miss Marion Munro, is teaching at Penhold. The Munros regret to see old timers like Mr. Munro leave the city, and we sincerely hope to see him back here again at no distant date. In the meantime, we wish him all success in his new position.

POPLAR RIDGE

Miss Kinna had a special Mothers' Day exercise at the School last Friday which was largely attended by the mothers and friends. Songs, recitations, and dialogues, closing with refreshments made a very enjoyable afternoon.

Mr. Anderson and a road gang are camping near Mr. Atkins, they are staying up the road between here and Red Deer for another car.

On account of the storm many turned out to Church on Sunday, the car that brought Rev. Brough out could not be started on the return trip and they had to phone to Red Deer for another car.

Mrs. John Wood of Rimbey spent a few days last week with her sister. Mrs. J. W. Christian and children are spending some time with Mrs. Strong.

presence of German submarines off the American coast have been current for the past two weeks, the reports telling of one or more having been sighted in southern waters. The attack upon American shipping along at the very entrance of New York harbor is taken to mean that Germany has at last inaugurated a submarine campaign to break up the transport of troops to France.

GERMAN FORCES GAINED NO GROUND DURING THE DAY

FRENCH WON MORE THAN THEY LOST, AND SITUATION WAS VERY FAVORABLE AT THE CLOSE.

London, June 3.—Tonight's report is the most hopeful since the beginning of the battle; for the first time since last Monday it can be said that the enemy gained no ground during the day, says Reuters's correspondent with the French headquarters in France.

"On his westward facing front in the direction of Paris, where attack and counter-attack followed with quick succession late in the afternoon, the German gains were at the least counter-balanced by French gains.

"In the center the country has extended his front along the north bank of the Marne, which is still bounded by the towns of Chateau-Thierry, which was evacuated some days ago, and Verneuil.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS

Donald Macfarlane, who works for Bob Lund, was thrown out of the rig he was driving when his horses ran away Sunday last, and escaped with a broken arm. He is doing as well as they can be expected under the circumstances.

A runaway team coming down Convent Hill met Mrs. Arthur Rogers and Mrs. Elsie going up on Saturday last, and their being barely room to pass they ran into Mrs. Rogers' buggy and tipped the occupants unceremoniously into the ditch. Mrs. Rogers sustained a badly bruised face, and numerous other bruises, while Mrs. Elsie thought she escaped free, but the "beautiful black eye" she had the next morning testified she had also been through the war. It might have been much worse.

John Richardson was thrown from the horse he was riding Monday night and dislocated his shoulder. He is carrying his arm in a sling now as though he had been through the war and is rather proud of the fact too.

Wednesday evening last R. J. Taggart, of the Brumpton and Guest store, was badly injured by a car driven by Stanley Gummow, of Willowdale. Mr. Taggart was proceeding home to his residence on Victoria Avenue on his right side of the street when the car came up behind it at a smart pace also on the right side. Mr. Taggart tried to evade the car by turning first across the street and then back again, but the car followed him and caught up to him and struck him in front of the Telephone Exchange, and threw him to the concrete walk, smashing his machine. He was taken home and later to the hospital. It is claimed the car drum of the right ear is broken, and he was otherwise bruised, but he was able to sit up on Monday, and is now recovering nicely. The auto driver claimed his brake would not work, while others try to make out he was doing a little joy riding, but we do not verify the statement. There is one thing certain that something has to be done at once to prevent speeding if we wish to save valuable lives in this community.

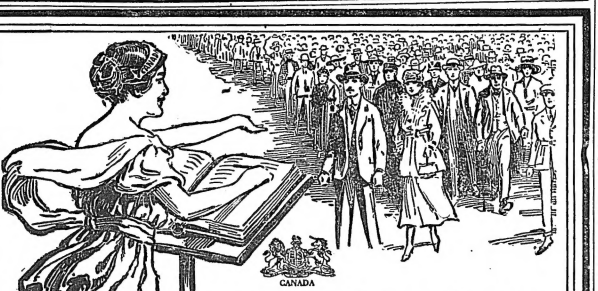

Several minor accidents such as tipping over into the ditch by young ladies are reported, but no damage was done except to the cars.

LETTER FROM ENGLAND

Gunner Charles Bremner, who left for England a short time ago with his battery, writes his mother, Mrs. Chas. Bremner, as follows:

A Battery, C.R.A.
Milford Camp, Wilbury,
Surrey, England.
May 11, 1918.

Dear Mother and Father,—I addressed the last letter to Ella, and so I will send this one to you. Things are fine here, and I am in the best of health. I just returned from leave a couple of days ago. I had 6 days, spent 3 in Edinburgh, and 3 in London. Say, I've learned a lot in these few days. It was the time of my life. Gee, I saw everything there was from early to late. Edinburgh is a wonderful city of stone and granite, a pretty, stately place. The people were good to us everywhere. I saw Edinburgh Castle, Holyrood Palace, St. Giles' Cathedral, where J. Knox used to preach, and through the house. Saw the sites of the ancient battles of Edinburgh, and the places, even the rooms where the Scottish kings and queens were born, lived, and died. It was surely fine. Some of the people were a thousand years old. I didn't have time to go to Banffshire or Aberdeen. We had a free pass so all it cost was my meals and bed. We stayed at the Y.M.C.A.'s in each place, meals from 25c to 35c and beds for 35c, or in English money, is 6d. In London we saw great things too, Buckingham Palace, and the king's horses, carriages, etc. Talk about horseflesh, and they are better looked after than we are. Was through Westminster Abbey and saw the graves of the kings, queens, statesmen, poets, etc. St. Paul's cathedral, and the Tower of London. The Tower is a great castle and relic of old times. It was started about 1000 years ago. Was in Parliamentary buildings, saw where Charles I. and Cromwell were, saw where they were executed at Whitehall Palace. These are only a few things to be seen. London is a much nicer city than I expected. Talk about crowds and traffic. Saw the Strand, the main street, Leicester Square, Piccadilly, etc. England over here look and are different from what we think of them in Canada. There are as many good and bad as there are Canadians. This is a beautiful stretch of dry weather here, and I hope it stays that way. Wearing Kitchener boots now. They weigh from 9 to 11 lbs. My big Canadian boots weigh 6 lbs, and they are slippery besides the Kitcheners. In Edinburgh I was entertained at Mr. Kennedy's. He's a Professor at the University. After church, a lady invited me over. Her husband is a major. My, they were pleasant, they lived for years in India. The Y.M.C.A. showed wonderful work over here. They see that the fellows all have beds, meals at all hours, and at lowest prices. They provide excursions, guides, etc., all over. I met several people who know the town of Kelth. Food is more plentiful in England than in England. Things look these days as though the war was nearly done. I expect peace any time. I'm going to study at the Khaki College. They will set special courses for us through London University, and it will be credited to me at any University. I've met several old acquaintances lately, some in London, and some here. I saw Ralph Huestis today. Shrimp and I meet every day. Well, I'd give a lot for sunny Alberta today. Spring there and the grain up likely. The country here is all a-bloom, hedges, hills, etc. So F. Perry in France, eh? I wonder how you all are. Tell Jim to write me or I'll give him a plug in the nose. The mail is very irregular here, hope you are all well. I met a Lieut. Riley here, he's a brother of the Rileys at Leslieville. He told me to come over and see him. He's a Sergeant Milton. He's a brother of the Rileys at Leslieville. He has a college chum of Brough's. He has preached at Red Deer. Teddy Plum and his wife are only a mile or so from here. I'm going to see them with Milton. Food is high here, lots of things, such as fruit, are worse than Canada, sugar is very scarce. We are quarantined for a few days and I will then be freer. While they are demolishing the army they are going to send those of us who want to go to London or some University. That will be great. Dr. Tordy is over here. I heard him speak once. Ottewill and others from Varsity are also here. Conventions will be over by now, and my M.A. conferred. I may get a letter in a few weeks telling me so. I wish this letter would not be so long on the way. Hope you are all well and cheerful. This war will soon be over. I am a Canadian, I may get to Germany. It is a desperate mission. Love to all. Take care of yourselves. CHAS.

Canada's Registration

Its Purpose and Application

CANADA faces the gravest crisis in her history. Four years of war have taken from the Dominion a heavy toll in talent and labor, yet despite the shortage of man power, our Allies still depend on Canada to maintain her own fighting forces at full strength and increase her exports of food and war materials, so vital to them, and to the successful prosecution of the war.

Every ounce by which Canada can increase her food production and every ounce Canada can save in her food consumption is needed for export to the Allies.

Should the war continue for another year, food cards and a rationing system may have to be instituted. It is the duty of Canada to be prepared for whatever situation circumstances may force upon her.

It is quite probable that before the war is won our Government may have to place restrictions upon the occupations in which men and women may engage. In such an event the Government wishes to be in a position to render all possible assistance in keeping our population usefully and profitably employed.

Registration Day, June 22nd

These conditions point to the necessity of Canada knowing the exact capabilities of her men and women at home.

All persons residing in Canada, male or female, British or alien of 16 years and over, will be required to register on June 22nd and truthfully answer the questions set forth upon the registration card.

It is not the Government's intention to conscript labour in any form, but to assist in directing it wisely, so that every available unit of human energy may be utilized to the best advantage.

The information procured through registration will be used as an aid to the Military Authorities in procuring the men necessary to maintain "Canada's First Line of Defence"—to mobilize all units of available labor in the Dominion and direct them from less essential to more essential occupations—to establish and intelligently administer a system of food rationing should that become necessary.

As and from April 1st, 1918, the date of the amalgamation of the Royal Flying Corps with the Royal Naval Air Service, the pay of cadets accepted for commissions, enlisted on or after that date, has been increased from the date they are actually posted to squadrons to commence their flying training. This takes place after they have passed through the cadet wing, school of aeronautics and the new course in the ground armament school, a total of about 18 weeks, up to which time they are paid at the existing rate of $1.10 a day, with 35 cents per day flying pay. They will be enlisted as third class air mechanics (mechanical pilots) and will be so described until they proceed overseas, where they will be described as "flying cadets." On completing their training in England, as has always been the case, they will receive their wings, and their pay will then be 10s per diem, with 5s per diem flying.

A NEW DEPARTURE

An innovation is the introduction of sergeant-pilots who will be taken from those who, through no fault of their own, have not the education necessary to fit them for commissions. These cadets, however, right through their training, will be carefully watched, with a view to their possibilities for commissions. The object is not to make sergeant pilots, but make officers out of sergeant pilots when possible.

PAY FOR SERGEANT PILOTS

Sergeant pilots will still be enlisted as third class air mechanics at $1.10 per diem and will not receive the title of sergeant pilot until they complete their training in England, when they, too, will receive wings. They will, however, be promoted to sergeants (non-technical) on proceeding overseas. As in the case of cadets suitable for commissions they will receive an increase of pay on posting to squadrons for flying training—the rate then being $2.00 per diem—which will remain in force until they proceed overseas. They will then come on the English rate of pay for sergeants; i.e., 3s 3d per diem.

On continuing flying training in England they will also receive 1s per diem flying pay, and on receiving their wings their pay will become 6s per diem, with 4s per diem flying pay.

Sergeant pilots who are married will be entitled to separation allowance of $25 per month under the conditions previously applying to them.

The training of both classes of cadets will be identical throughout.

The Royal Flying Corps is also open for a limited number of mechanics. Only men in Category B can apply for this branch of the service. These men must be first class mechanics and have served their apprenticeship.

They are also taking men from the Canadian engineers and railway construction troops. Men applying for enlistment with the engineers must be category A men, and must be below the age of 20 or above the age of 34.

They must not come under the Military Service Act. Men for the railway construction troops must be class A or B, and must also not come under the Military Service Act.

BLEW UP BRIDGE AND BROUGHT DOWN AIRPLANE AT SAME TIME

Ottawa, May 30.—The following article has been received here: "To blow up a bridge and bring down an aeroplane was the unique experience of engineers of a Canadian overseas railway construction unit during the recent fighting in the Meuse valley, near the river. The incident is vouched for by an Imperial infantry colonel whose men were holding the line at this section. It was decided necessary to destroy the steel construction at the last moment after our men had crossed, and a young Winnipeg lieutenant was given the job, using a lorry filled with gunpowder. He had just completed the mining and the fixing of the fuse when a Hun plane swooped down and dropped bombs on both sides of the bridge. The lorry was buried out behind the bridge, but the officer stayed behind to see if any of our infantry needed to cross. The aeroplane was round in a circle and came at the bridge, firing machine guns as the last men dived for cover. The Canadian unit his fuse after it had gone and then dashed up the road. Just as the machine came swerving over the bridge for the second time the structure went up in a blinding flash. The aeroplane rocked with the force of the explosion, suddenly flamed up, and crashed. Not a single soul crawled out his from the ruins although the British infantry watched closely."

FEATURES OF THE RURAL PROBLEM

At a Kansas public meeting some time ago a lady was asked to give an address on "Rural Permanency." Following are some extracts from her really splendid speech, which applies with equal force to Canadian conditions:

In God's world the law of all things is continuity. In His world there are no abrupt beginnings, no rude transitions, and no today that is not based upon yesterday. The light from the distant stars starts many hundred years before the rays reach the earth; and so it is, in living these lives of ours, what we are today must ever be a part of yesterday.

"In all human experience the higher is conditioned by the lower, just as every building is limited by its foundation. Without adequate moral development to control the physical and utilize it for ends above itself, the physical becomes sensual, then sensual, and sensually means decay and death. These processes of degeneration have been all too clearly illustrated by ancient Eastern civilization; they are perilous for modern times, but the transition from muscular power to mechanical."

"Our enormous increase of wealth has led to such a remarkable shifting of our population from agriculture to manufactures and mechanical pursuits that the normal balance between country and city has been entirely and for all time destroyed."

"Notwithstanding the fact that the government gave away an enormous number of farms during the past fifty years, and thus stimulated artificially the agricultural industry, the proportionate growth of the city continued. The arable lands are now practically exhausted, and this stimulus is withdrawn. So today we find ourselves in the midst of a new civilization, filled with new perils and new possibilities."

"A few weeks ago I asked my husband to drive me over some of our beautiful lands and highways that I knew when I was a little girl with a primer under my arm. I returned with the drive heartick. The beautiful trees I knew were gone, the roadside was unkempt, farm houses were out of repair, no new ones, the fields had a neglected look, and over all there brooded an atmosphere of decay. The owners nearly all lived in the town, of course, and the tenants were possibly doing the best they could be expected with property not their own. All this in the once most prosperous part of Kansas."

"For men respect their own profession as little as does the farmer. I speak advisedly. Over fifty years I lived with farmers. There is need of a new spirit of loyalty to the blessed soil itself. What answer shall our prairies give to this monstrous city challenge? The prairies of Kansas have spoken with marvellous effect against unholly invasion in days gone by. My prayer is that they speak now as always, for that which is highest and best."

"Kansas must realize as never before that her greatest need is not that her factories should be running at a large capacity, not that her wage-earners should be employed at a high scale, not that her railroads should be laden with prosperous traffic, but land and values rising or her cities expanding. These things are well and good; I would not discredit their importance but Kansas must first have, if she is to live, a strong home-building, home-loving rural population."

"The prairies of Kansas are calling, calling today for the new education from the farm door; calling for better rural teachers, better equipped better paid; calling for township high schools; calling for rural social centers; calling for better roads; calling for more beautiful highways. What answer will our law makers give?"

"The law makers have jumped into the lake because there was a woman at the bottom of it. Back of the heavy drift from country to city, back of the increasing tenacity, back of the many things that have been making for the decay of higher rural life has been a very weary overworked discontented woman, which our State builders in the past have failed to recognize."

"If Kansas is to keep her best blood to the soil she must be thinking in wider terms of welfare for the farm housekeeper, for she is more largely responsible for the exodus of the family to town than any other member."

"The farm housekeeper has been very hungry and in need of food—not carbohydrates or proteins; she has been overtaxed with such a balanced ration of inspirational food. Our difficulty as farm homekeepers has not been that we did not have plenty of the best there was to eat, a soft place to sleep, nice clothes to wear, and a bank balance. It is a better place for the heart to rest, a higher plane for the soul to poise, a greater store of mental treasure, that the farm woman craves. She needs the quickening effect of human contact that will make her more alert and responsive to agencies which lift human life to higher levels."

RETURNED SOLDIER DIES

E. F. MEDLEY PASSES AWAY.

Infantrymen were shocked on Tuesday to learn that E. F. Medley, who lately returned from the war, had died that morning.

Mr. Medley, after his return, took up the farm life at Horse Shoe Lake, where he had made his home since coming to Alberta, in the spring of 1904. He had apparently recovered from the wounds received in the service of King and Country, but he was not so robust as before. However, he kept on "doing his bit."

Since his return from France, he had been troubled more less with hemorrhages, a result of his wounds, but had been comparatively free from the trouble for some time. But about a week before his death the old trouble came back, causing him to take to his bed, from which he never rose.

The reunion of the family separated by the war was but a brief one. With plans well laid for the future, with the hope of a comfortable home and a happy family around him, he now lies cold in death at the age of 40 years. But his service to his country will live in the hearts of us all.

Mr. Medley was an Englishman, and a general all round good fellow. His wife (the widow) died just before coming (Alberta) and two young children survive him.

He was active in agricultural matters, having been a president of the (Infantry) Agricultural Society for some years, and a member of the U.F.A., as well as prominent in other rural affairs.—Infantry Province

GERMANS DETERMINED TO CAPTURE RHEIMS

HUN PROGRESS IS SLOWER AND MORE DIFFICULT DUE TO THE ARRIVAL OF FRENCH RESERVES ENEMY CHECKED AT MOST POINTS.

With the French Armies in the Field, May 31.—The Germans are determined to capture Rheims. Held by the British to the east, north and west of that city, the enemy plans a wide encircling movement to the southeast, hoping to surround it, military authorities believe today.

To accomplish this, the Germans are expected to increase their pressure between Brouillet and Janvry, with the intention of breaking through along the Ardre river and following this valley along southeastward, gradually turning to the east so as to approach Rheims from the south. This strategy would entail the capture of Ville en Tardenois, four miles south-east of Brouillet and two miles to the west of the Ardre.

FLAWS NORTHEASTWARD

The Ardre rises in a small lake four miles north of the Marne, at Epernay. It flows northeastward, converging with the Vesle at Fismes.

The German progress has been slower and more difficult for the past several hours owing to the steady arrival of French reserves. The enemy apparently has been entirely checked at most points on this front. His efforts now seem to be concentrated in driving toward Fers-en-Tardenois, as a part of the plan to take Rheims.

Every German regiment engaged in the southern drive advances in successive "bunches." Four companies are in the front rank each time. Each company has four portable machine guns, with one in reserve. Each regiment in addition has three machine gun companies, possessing twelve machine guns apiece and the mounted trench mortar companies which have a new long-range weapon.

As each wave of four companies flows forward, the first wave is ordered to precede itself with a machine gun barrage, while the portable trench mortars dislodge the Allied machine guns and wipe out the centres of resistance.

LONG RANGE GUN HITS CHURCH ON CORPUS CHRISTI.

Paris, May 31.—The German long range bombardment of Paris was resumed early this morning.

A shell from a German long range gun struck a Paris church today. An official statement making this announcement adds:

"This fact should be compared with Cardinal von Hartmann's request to the British government that Cologne be not bombed today—the feast of Corpus Christi. This is another example of German bad faith, for the least that could be expected was that Germany would have the same forbearance toward Paris as was asked for Cologne."

Geneva, May 30.—Religious processions in celebration of the feast of Corpus Christi were not held in the Archdiocese of Cologne today. According to the Tribune, Cardinal von Hartmann forbade the processions for fear of Allied air raids, at the request of the civil and military authorities.

The British government today announced that there would be no bombing of Cologne during the time of the Corpus Christi procession in that city. The request was made by the Cardinal through the Vatican. Serious damage has been caused in Cologne recently by British bombers.

HOSPITALS ARE AGAIN BOMBED BY HUN FLIERS

With the British Army in France, May 31.—Another big British hospital was bombed by German airmen early yesterday morning, and once more many medical workers and some patients were killed or wounded.

The hospital caught fire after a large section of the building had been demolished by a bomb. A few women nurses were among the slain and their bodies together with those of a considerable number more of the personnel and patients are buried in the ruins according to the latest reports.

AMERICANS ALSO SUFFER.

German airmen made a pretentious raid on the area behind the American lines in Picardy last night. Bombs were dropped on all sides of one of the largest hospitals in a town many miles to the rear of the front. American and French wounded soldiers were carried to cellars and caves by American nurses and members of the American Red Cross.

Three American Ambulances were caught in the raid. The sergeant who was driving the first ambulance said: "Our three ambulances were hurrying to hospitals with patients when a bomb wrecked a building directly in front of us, in a narrow street. Our ambulance was perforated by flying missiles. We were hurled out, but escaped with a few scratches."

The second car apparently received the full force of the explosion and was wrecked completely.

GERMANS REACH THE MARNE

HUNS ADVANCE IN-CHAMPAGNE ON TEN MILE FRONT—POSITION OF RHEIMS REPORTED AS PRECARIOUS.

London, May 31.—The Germans in their Champagne offensive in France have now reached the right bank of the River Marne on a ten-mile front, according to a statement given to the Associated Press today by the British general staff.

The situation around Rheims is not quite clear, but it is not already lost, it seems clear it will fall soon.

Thursday the French were driven back to a line from Noyon to Soissons.

A new development is the German attempt to extend their attacks to the east of Rheims, where they were reported to be attacking last night, but no further details have been received.

London, May 31.—There is nothing special interest to report from the British front, says the war office communication issued tonight.

Berlin, May 30.—More than 45,000 prisoners and far in excess of 400 guns and thousands of machine guns have been taken by the Germans, according to the German official communication issued today.

Between March 21 and April 5, the Germans took prisoners from the British and French ranks in excess of 90,000 in the battle before Cambrai, according to an official communication issued by the German war office April 5. The communication asserted that more than 1300 guns also had been captured.

A division this morning dashed across the valley and recaptured Berry-le-Bas and pushed as far as Noyon, on the east side of the river. The Germans counter attacked in great strength and re-established their line after the bitter fighting. Further south, in the region of Hartennes, another battle is raging.

The Germans are supported by numerous tanks. Wherever there is a chance of success, we do not hesitate to counter attack against superior numbers, even though the utmost hope is to delay the enemy.

On the extreme right the Franco-British are gallantly holding the line in front of Rheims.

Thursday the French stormed and captured a group of hills north of Rheims, on the bank of the Alsne, known as Courcy. The horsemen of the French were later driven out by the German counter-attack, but achieved the object of gaining precious time.

One of the most memorable stories of the battle is of three French battalions which were surrounded in the Allette valley on Monday morning. Cut off from the rest of the army, the first their position was hopeless. They could neither be relieved nor helped. They sent a carrier pigeon with a message that they would fight to the last. They must have held out 48 hours. A last message received in the afternoon of Tuesday repeated the assurance they would die fighting.

STARTLING EVIDENCE IN LONDON TRIAL

CAPT. SPENCER SAYS CAMARILLA TRIED TO RETURN EX-PREMIER TO POWER.

London, May 31.—The greater part of today's proceedings in the trial of Noel Pemberton-Billing was taken up with a cross-examination of Captain Harold Sherwin Spencer, who gave startling testimony on his direct examination. Few new developments were brought to light, except that Capt. Spencer said that he had received information about the efforts of the camarilla to get Herbert H. Asquith, Joseph Caillaux and Giovanni Giolitti returned to power as premiers of Great Britain, France, and Italy, respectively.

Mrs. George Koppel, who was mentioned by Capt. Spencer as the messenger between Germany and England was represented by counsel, who asked that she be given an opportunity to give evidence that she had not been in Holland since the outbreak of the war. The judge granted the request and her evidence will be given later.

Capt. Hall, chief of the admiralty intelligence department, will also be called.

DETAILS OF REGISTRATION OF MEN AND WOMEN NEAR COMPLETION

BOARD MAKING EVERY EFFORT TO SECURE THE SERVICES OF VOLUNTEERS

Ottawa, May 31.—Preparations for the registration by Canada's registration board of the man and woman power throughout the dominion, on Saturday, June 22, proceeded apace. As every British subject over the age of 16 years is required to register, it is estimated that the number of registrations will be in the neighborhood of 5,000,000 and the task of taking it will be a colossal one.

WANT VOLUNTEER WORKERS

The Canada registration board is making every effort to secure the services of volunteers in connection with the taking of the registration. School teachers throughout the dominion are counted upon for assistance. Already women and labor organizations have responded splendidly to the request for assistance, and now nearly 800,000 members of fraternal societies are being appealed to. On the Sunday before registration day it is hoped to have a message on registration delivered from every pulpit in Canada. Arrangements are also being made for using the motion picture theatres to acquaint the residents with their duties in connection with registration.

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN.

The campaign of newspaper public in a really vital way.

ity which will start today is expected to clear up a great many misunderstandings which have prevailed in the past with regard to the registration. Starting, as it does, some three weeks before the date of registration, it will furnish citizens throughout the country with an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the objects of the movement and the methods to be adopted in securing this census of Canada's man and woman power. After it is over there will probably be few people who do not understand why the work has been undertaken and will be carried through.

A pamphlet of instructions to deputy registrars and their assistants is being issued to the registration board. One of its paragraphs states that, subject to the approval of the registrar, "the board would sanction plans to open the schools on each evening during the week preceding registration day, the registration of employees in the premises upon which they are employed, the opening of booths in charge of volunteer workers at lodge meetings, meetings of women's institutes, and other similar gatherings where the opportunity would be presented of effecting the registration of a large number of people at a minimum expenditure of time and labor."

ALLIED AVIATORS BRING WAR HOME TO HUNS AT LAST

ASTONISHING RECORD FOR THE MONTH OF MAY DISCLOSED BY FACTS

London, May 31.—The recent astonishing successes of the Allied air offensive have caused a renewal of the oblique enemy suggestion for a cease-fire on the basis of the "open towns." The German headquarters staff clearly realizes the enormous and ever-growing disadvantages of the enemy now that the Allied air forces have sufficient strength and efficiency to reach every city in western and central Germany and discharge on them not hundredweights, but tons, of bombs. The enemy must, therefore, seriously dilute his frontal strength by detaching large air forces to defend German imperial cities.

MAY'S GREAT RECORD.

Already, during May, despite unfavorable weather for long distance work, we attacked Saarbrücken, Cologne, Landau, Mannheim, Karlsruhe, all in Germany proper, as well as Metz and Thionville in Alsace Lorraine. We also bombed the enemy's aerodromes, billets, shell dumps, and stations on an unprecedented scale, and attacking enemy aircraft whenever they showed themselves. There is every expectation that this paralyzing vigor of the Allied aircraft will be followed by a strong air peace offensive, based on German promises as valuable as those affecting Belgium and the Bres-Litovak treaty. At last the war is being brought home to the German nation.

BRITISH PUSH FORWARD LINE IN PALESTINE

London, June 1.—The official statement on operations in Palestine, issued by the war office Saturday evening, reads:

"Our troops in the central area in Palestine advanced their line to a depth of one and three-fourth miles on a front of five and a half miles southwest of Tabor on the night of May 28. They captured two Turkish posts, repulsing several counterattacks with considerable losses to the enemy.

ARMY WILL NOT FAIL
YOU, HAIG ASSERTS

INSPIRING MESSAGE SENT TO
BRITISH AND FOREIGN SAILORS' SOCIETY.

London, June 1.—The British and Foreign Sailors' Society held a meeting at Albert Hall last night on the occasion of the second anniversary of the battle of Jutland.

Field Marshal Haig sent this telegram:

"We rejoice in your gallant deeds. As on the seas you have never failed us, so on the land our army will not fail you."

Admiral Viscount Jellicoe, addressing the meeting, paid a warm tribute to the work of the mercantile marine, saying that it was as a result of its efforts that Great Britain today was so well fed and clothed, and enjoyed such comforts. Alluding to the submarine campaign, the admiral said,

SUMMARY OF THE BATTLE

The strength of General Foch's reserves has been felt by the armies of the German crown prince in the "battle for Paris."

East of the Chateau-Thierry, where the Germans on Saturday, in continuation of their mighty strokes, gained several additional villages, and then attempted to proceed further westward, magnificent opposition was imposed by the newly strengthened lines, and with terrific smashes the French forces recaptured Longport, Courcy, Faverolles and Troesnes, vantage points in the centre of the line leading to the forest of Villers-Cotterêts, which seems to be the present objective here of the enemy.

The Germans, however, still have in their possession the village of Vaux-sous-Claye, in the northwest of Soissons, and further south Saconin-Breuil, Chaudun, Locy, and Boureches, the last named directly west of Chateau-Thierry.

A little to the southwest of Chateau-Thierry the enemy has reached the Marne.

Nowhere has there been any attempt by the invaders to cross the river and at all points east of Chateau-

Thierry they are hugging the northern bank of the stream.

It is not improbable, however, that the tactics of the Germans have in view the forcing of the river when the time is more propitious, for in the centre of the line between Chateau-Thierry and Rheims they have pushed back the Allied front across the Rheims-Dormans road between Oilly-Violaine and Ville en Tardenois, and are pressing onward toward the Marne.

This is the only point on their left, however, where the enemy has been able to make fresh gains, notwithstanding the fact that he has thrown new divisions into the struggle, some of the best trained troops in the German army.

Having failed in all their efforts to conquer Rheims by direct assault, it now seems to be the intention of the Germans further to widen their occupation of the line lying south of the Rheims-Dormans road, and thereby outflank the cathedral city and bring it into captivity. In the light of the fact that he has thrown new divisions into the struggle, some of the best trained troops in the German army, for the French forces, in a counter-attack, recaptured it.

Taken all in all, the seventh day of the new battle found the Allied line from Soissons to Rheims, although it had been kept back at various points, not so hard pressed as on previous days and seemingly more capable of resisting the enemy's onslaughts.

Just how many men the Allies are opposing against the 45 German divisions that are now actively engaged on the Soissons-Rheims front has not become apparent, but the fact that on the west the enemy is being not only held, but driven back at points and on the southern end of the salient he had been unable to make but slight new progress, is apparent evidence that a turn in the battle is not far distant.

The British in the regions of Arras, Lens and Bethune are keeping up their trench raiding operations against the Germans. Saturday night, contingents from the London forces invaded a German trench southeast of Arras and took 27 prisoners and a machine gun, while east of Lens and north of Bethune similar manoeuvres were carried out and other German made prisoners.

There is considerable artillery activity on both sides of the northern sectors of the western front.

As yet, the expected battle has not broken in the Italian theatre. There has been only moderate artillery activity along the whole front. Italian and Allied airplanes are busy in reconnaissance work and bombing attacks upon the enemy lines.

German airplanes again have delivered an attack on Paris. Several persons were injured by the bomb explosions.

CANADIAN WATER POWERS

By H. P. TIMMERMAN, Industrial Commissioner, Canadian Pacific Railway.

The following estimate is given by the Dominion Water Power Branch of the water power available in each province, showing to what extent this already has been developed.

Provinces	Power Developed				Total
	Available	Electrical Energy	Pulp and Paper	Other Industries
Ontario	5,800,000	632,083	83,375	74,008	785,466
Quebec	6,000,000	370,000	100,000	50,000	520,000
Nova Scotia	100,000	3,000	12,000	5,000	20,000
New Brunswick	300,000	5,000	3,000	4,000	13,000
Prince Edward Island	3,000
Manitoba	3,500,000	76,200		50	76,250
Saskatchewan	3,500,000	32,800		100	32,900
Alberta	3,000,000	210,245	40,000	4,275	254,520
British Columbia	3,000,000	12,000			12,000
Yukon	100,000
Total	18,803,000	1,348,450	248,675	139,033	1,735,558

It will be seen from the above that York, with a population of five million, and to have got all lit up on one-fifth or less, providing also for electric power, indicates that the manufacturing enterprises of that already have divined the coming of the great city must have gone somewhat crazy on power, excepting such as may have been produced from coals that would otherwise have been available for heating.

A similar comparison doubtless would be made between Toronto and Chicago, or any other Canadian and American city of relative position, a comparison sure to become more striking as time passes and the upward tendency in the cost of coal is contrasted with the lowering cost of coal, especially into the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, the source of two-thirds of the available current may be surmised. Since the war resulted in a scarcity of vessels for transportation of Nova Scotia coal up the St. Lawrence River to the industries of Montreal, there have been converted to the use of electrical energy in that vicinity no less than one hundred and fifty private steam plants, with a demand load of about as many thousand horse-power; while many others are considering a like transformation.

Having mentioned Montreal, it may further be said that with a population approximating three-quarters of a million, that city and vicinity, according to one of the principal power companies, was supplied by it alone last year with slightly under a billion kilowatt-hours, the equivalent of which also raw materials are amount available to the city of New York, now to some extent imported. In fact, some of the larger users of heat and power, such as the electric, chemical, and metallurgical plants, already have divined the coming of the great city must have gone somewhat crazy on power, excepting such as may have been produced from coals that would otherwise have been available for heating.

A negro who was well known to the judge had been hauled into court on a charge of having struck a relative with a brick. After the usual preliminaries the court inquired: "Why do you hit this man?"

"Judge, he called me a black rascal."

"Well, you are one, aren't you?"

"Yessah, maybe I is one. But, Judge, s'pose some one should call you a black rascal, wouldn't you hit him?"

"But I am not one, am I?"

"Naw, sah, naw, sah, you ain't one, but s'pose some one'd call you de kind of rascal you are, what'd you do?"

FIVE GERMAN U-BOATS AT WORK ALONG THE ATLANTIC COAST.

Norfolk, Va., June 3.—Naval officers here said tonight that reports indicated that five German submarines had been operating along the Atlantic coast, and that two had been sighted off Virginia last week.

Reverend Fletcher, commandant of the Norfolk navy yard, said two U-boats had been sighted off the Virginia capes, and Rear-Admiral McLean, commandant of the Fifth Naval district, said in addition to the two, two others were reported off the coast of New Jersey and one off the coast of North Carolina. Neither officer had been advised of any engagement between American warships and U-boats.

ENEMY DEPOTS IN ITALY FIRED BY BRITISH GUNS.

Rome, June 1.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"Between Lake Garda, the Adige and Asiago plateau and astride the Brenna, the artillery duels at times were intense. The fire of the British batteries caused large conflagrations to break out in the enemy depots at Pesce and Selva.

"At Balto, Monticello, and Monte Corno, hostile patrols were dispersed by our heavy and light hostile airplanes were brought down."

RECORD, RECORD, WHO'S GOT A RECORD?

The hospital ward was big and bare, and a huge figure in officer's khaki on his daily inspection, or perhaps a nurse bending over some helpless form, broke the uniform sameness of the rows and rows of white cots. In the centre of the room within earshot of all, a talking machine had been placed.

To these wounded soldiers this was a gift from the skies, for music will soothe the sick, cheer the lonely and brighten the lives of all its hearers. On this particular morning "Star Threads Among the Field" had been recorded three times, while "Annie Laurie" had been played three times, and "Casey Jones," being the favorite, was played on the moving dial over five times. Can you blame the soldiers for not receiving much inspiration and cheer when just three records had been allotted their ward, owing to such a limited supply.

This is just one instance of the many that occur in our military hospitals and rest homes, throughout the country, where thousands of returned soldiers are being cared for and who have some sound reproducing machine or player piano, but a very poor and meagre assortment of records or player rolls. Can you not start to-day looking through your cabinets and sort out the records that no longer interests you and have become useless.

Think what it will mean to these returned Soldiers' Homes and Hospitals to receive the selection of records that you have sent them, in care of your local branch of the Red Cross. So let's make this the record campaign for our country's heroes.

ARMY WILL NOT FAIL YOU, HAIG ASSERTS

INSPIRING MESSAGE SENT TO BRITISH AND FOREIGN SAILORS' SOCIETY.

London, June 1.—The British and Foreign Sailors' Society held a meeting last night to mark the occasion of the second anniversary of the battle of Jutland.

Field Marshal Haig sent this telegram:

"We rejoice in your gallant deeds. As on the day you have never failed us, so on the land our army will not fail you."

Admiral Viscount Jellicoe, addressing the meeting, paid a warm tribute to the work of the mercantile marine, saying that it was as a result of its efforts that Great Britain today was so well fed and clothed, and enjoyed such comforts. Alluding to the submarine campaign, the admiral said, the stories concerning sailors, both British and foreign, whose ships had been torpedoed, who had been subjected to gun-fire, abandoned to the sea or drowned intentionally by the enemy, in the hope of destroying their morale, seemed incredible. Yet never a man flinched. Never was a ship delayed for want of a crew. There was no parallel in the history of the sea for such murder, but the British sailor was unconquered. Each time his ship was torpedoed he went to sea again.

The Marquis of Crewe, who presided at the meeting, read a telegram from King George, congratulating the society. In the course of his speech the marquis referred to the demands for repatriation for German atrocities. He said he knew of no rule of divine justice or human procedure which, when the enemy sank a passenger ship, or attacked hospitals on land, would forbid trial of the perpetrators by drumhead court martial and their execution, not by hanging them as malefactors.

"If, however, we were to act, entirely within our rights," he continued, "the enemy would put to death an equal number of our men against whom no offense could be alleged. But let it not be supposed that the barbarities of German warfare will be forgotten when the time comes to consider the conditions for ending the war. We shall then possess the power of exerting iron pressure on the Central Powers, through our unimpaired command of the sea and our control of raw materials."

NEW TRAIN SERVICE

The new C.P.R. train service starts on Sunday. The south bound trains leave Red Deer at 3:55 a.m., 10:55 a.m., and 6:25 p.m., those north bound at 3:30 a.m., 10:55 a.m., and 6:55 p.m. The Ker-robot train leaves at 8:40 a.m., and arrives at 7 p.m. The Alberta Central leaves at 1:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays. On Sunday the Ker-robot, A. C. R., 10:55 a.m. north bound, and 6:25 p.m. south bound do not run.

BY-LAW CARRIED.

The by-law authorizing the city to issue Treasury notes to the amount of $24,000 against the uncollected taxes of 1917, voted upon by the ratepayers of the City on Monday last, was carried unanimously, not a vote being recorded against it. There were only twelve ratepayers sufficiently interested to turn out and vote for it. As a matter of fact it was so overwhelming that the Council was not given power to pass by-laws of this nature without having to submit them to the people as both the consent of the Utilities Commission of the Province and the Dominion government authorities have to be gained before notes of this nature can be issued by a Municipal Council. Other cities of Alberta do not have to submit a by-law of this nature to the people.

DEATH OF MRS. F. C. LEONARD

Mrs. F. C. Leonard and family will have much sympathy in the sudden death at Peabody, Kansas, of Mrs. Leonard who left for her old home a short time ago. She had seemed to be improving and on Wednesday Mr. Leonard received a letter to that effect, to have his hopes dashed to the ground by the wire of Thursday. Mrs. Leonard has not enjoyed good health of later years and last year she went to Kansas only to find that any gain she had made by the change was lost on her return home. Mr. Leonard motored to Calgary Thursday evening to catch a train which would take him to Peabody in time for the funeral.

If you have any Kodak films you want enlarged bring them to our studio. G. E. Fleming.
